Audience

Jay Leubke and Glenn Munson from the library board.

- They telephoned Meg Campbell of the Preservation Trust of Vermont regarding a possible roof for the ramp, and she discouraged that approach.
- They met with Marty Kravitt regarding the handicap ramp snow buildup, and he suggested snow guards for the roof.
- Photos of the snow problems were circulated among the board members.
- The board suggested pursuing the snow guard option, and to have Stan Decker present for the consultation.

Keith Mason, road commissioner

- Keith gave the board the snow plow prices he investigated. This would be for a used vehicle to replace the 550.
- Joe asked about shipping charges and where the companies were located.
- Keith and Joe will pursue the option of purchasing a local used vehicle that would suit their purpose.
- Keith presented the board with photos showing fatigue and structural failure in the stainless steel box on the 2008 truck. He has started a discussion with the dealer, and will continue to pursue the matter.
- Regarding an insurance claim on a plow, they have had no response, but will continue to pursue it.
- Joe asked about the compressor for the shop. Keith said he would rather replace it than pay $800 to have it tested and still have the possibility of it failing the test and need to be replaced anyway. The tank dates from the 1950s. It was the consensus of the board to get a new compressor. Keith will investigate prices.
