Third Century of Service
The Pawlet Town Hall, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, is an 1881 High Victorian Italianate style structure. It was built in cooperation with Marcellus Wheeler, a local merchant, to function as the seat of town government as well as commercial space. It has continuously served Pawlet's town government and as the Civic Center of Pawlet, as well as having provided space over the years for a store, tin shop, school, post office, apartment and library. Prominent features include a cupola and a porch that almost encircles the entire building.

Today the first floor houses the offices of the Town Clerk, Treasurer, Listers, and Zoning. The second floor serves as a meeting space.

Pawlet Town Hall continues to preserve and enhance its position as the center of town government and village life. This cultural resource is an important part of the heritage of Vermont and the nation.
