Principal's Corner:

Parent Involvement

As part of our Title 1 funding we need to have a current Parent/Guardian Student School Compact. In the past, we have had our Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) create the compact. This year we have updated and made some changes to the past parent compact. We would like your input on this Parent/Guardian Student School Compact. Please click the link below to read the draft compact.

Parent/Guardian School Compact

Please click the link below to ask questions, make suggestions, or tell us additional ways you would like to be involved with our school. We appreciate your feedback.

Parent Conferences

Thank you for attending your child's parent conferences. It was great to see our students leading their conferences and sharing their learning with all of you. A huge thank you goes out to the teachers who supported their students with their personal learning plans (PLP's) and for preparing all the students for their conferences. Thank you to all the staff members who worked in our child care room. This allowed our parents to be present for their child's conference. It is great to have all of you involved with your child's education.

Enchanted Door Winner

I know you have all been eagerly awaiting to hear who won the enchanted door decorating contest!

Drum roll please.....

Mrs. Lea's 4th grade classroom with their beautifully engineered dragon. What a show of collaboration and teamwork! They even created magical amulets for guests to wear to enter their fantasy world.

Congratulations 4th Grade!!!

I Matter, You Matter - 28 Day Challenge!

A flier went home last week, and again this week, with more information about this program but we wanted to highlight the challenge. The hope is that each member of our community will join in sharing a simple act of kindness and caring each day (and every day) until I Matter, You Matter Day on March 28th. We are hoping for 1,000,000 acts of kindness to be shared and paid forward.

All School Read!

Thank you so much to Battenkill Valley Creamery for donating milk for our All School Read on Wednesday.

All School Read is a wonderful way for our school community to come together around a common book and foster a love of reading.

This year we read

Berry Song by Michaela Goade.

Our afternoon was spent snuggled up with a book of choice, blankets, berries, crackers, and milk!

Norovirus Illness: Key Facts

Norovirus—the stomach bug

Norovirus is a highly contagious virus. Norovirus infection causes gastroenteritis (inflammation of the stomach and intestines). This leads to diarrhea, vomiting, and stomach pain.

Norovirus illness is often called by other names, such as food poisoning and stomach flu. Noroviruses can cause food poisoning, as can other germs and chemicals. Norovirus illness is not related to the flu (influenza). Though they share some of the same symptoms, the flu is a respiratory illness caused by influenza virus.

Anyone can get norovirus illness

- Norovirus is the most common cause of acute gastroenteritis in the U.S.
- Each year, norovirus causes 19 to 21 million cases of acute gastroenteritis in the U.S.
- There are many types of norovirus and you can get it more than once.

Norovirus illness can be serious

- Norovirus illness can make you feel extremely sick with diarrhea and vomiting many times a day.
- Some people may get severely dehydrated, especially young children, the elderly, and people with other illnesses.
- Each year, norovirus causes 56,000 to 71,000 hospitalizations and 570 to 800 deaths, mostly in young children and the elderly.

Norovirus spreads very easily and quickly

- It only takes a very small amount of norovirus particles (fewer than 100) to make you sick.
- People with norovirus illness shed billions of virus particles in their stool and vomit and can easily infect others.
- You are contagious from the moment you begin feeling sick and for the first few days after you recover.
- Norovirus can spread quickly in enclosed places like daycare centers, nursing homes, schools, and cruise ships.
- Norovirus can stay on objects and surfaces and still infect people for days or weeks.
- Norovirus can survive some disinfectants, making it hard to get rid of.

Norovirus can spread in many ways

Norovirus can spread to others by—

- having direct contact with an infected person, for example, touching an infected person while caring for them,
- eating food or drinking liquids that are contaminated with norovirus,
- touching objects that have norovirus on them and then putting your fingers in your mouth, for example, touching a countertop that has vomit droplets on it and then putting your fingers in your mouth and
- sharing utensils or cups with people who are infected with norovirus.

There's no vaccine to prevent norovirus infection and no drug to treat it

- Antibiotics will not help with norovirus illness because antibiotics do not work on viruses.
- When you have norovirus illness, drink plenty of liquids to replace fluid loss and prevent dehydration.
- If you or someone you are caring for is dehydrated, call a doctor.

What is the Right Way to Wash Your Hands?

1. Wet your hands with clean, running water (warm or cold) and apply soap.
2. Rub your hands together to make a lather and scrub them well; be sure to scrub the backs of your hands, between your fingers, and under your nails.
3. Continue rubbing your hands for at least 20 seconds. Need a timer? Hum the "Happy Birthday" song from beginning to end twice.
4. Rinse your hands well under running water.
5. Dry your hands using a clean towel or air dry them.

See Handwashing: Clean Hands Saves Lives (www.cdc.gov/handwashing/)

5 Tips to Prevent Norovirus From Spreading

1. Practice proper hand hygiene

Always wash your hands carefully with soap and water—

- after using the toilet and changing diapers, and
- before eating, preparing, or handling food.

Alcohol-based hand sanitizers can be used in addition to hand washing. But, they should not be used as a substitute for washing with soap and water.

2. Wash fruits and vegetables and cook seafood thoroughly

Carefully wash fruits and vegetables before preparing and eating them.

Cook oysters and other shellfish thoroughly before eating them.

Be aware that noroviruses are relatively resistant. They can survive temperatures as high as 140°F and quick steaming processes that are often used for cooking shellfish.

Food that might be contaminated with norovirus should be thrown out.

Keep sick infants and children out of areas where food is being handled and prepared.

3. When you are sick, do not prepare food or care for others

You should not prepare food for others or provide healthcare while you are sick and for at least 2 to 3 days after you recover. This also applies to sick workers in schools, daycares, and other places where they may expose people to norovirus.

4. Clean and disinfect contaminated surfaces

After throwing up or having diarrhea, immediately clean and disinfect contaminated surfaces. Use a chlorine bleach solution with a concentration of 1000–5000 ppm (5–25 tablespoons of household bleach [5.25%] per gallon of water) or other disinfectant registered as effective against norovirus by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

5. Wash laundry thoroughly

Immediately remove and wash clothes or linens that may be contaminated with vomit or stool (feces).

You should—

- handle soiled items carefully without agitating them,
- wear rubber or disposable gloves while handling soiled items and wash your hands after, and wash the items with detergent at the maximum available cycle length then machine dry them.

Visit CDC's Norovirus Web site at www.cdc.gov/norovirus for more information.

Wednesday, March 29, 2023

Casella Theater, Castleton University

A Night at the Movies features a live, 22-piece VSO chamber orchestra accompanying seven documentary and animation films with Vermont ties.

The program weaves through a breadth of musical styles and film stories, from two animated shopping carts searching for love, to the story of Hansel and Gretel. A little girl grows up in an undocumented farmworker family, adventurous lemurs learn to fly, and more!

Join us at 6pm before the concert for a meet-and-greet with the conductor.
